Chicago Powdered Metal Products Names Dhaval Anand as Quality Manager

Chicago Powdered Metal Products is proud to announce the addition of Dhaval Anand as its new Quality Manager. Anand is an accomplished Quality and Engineering leader. He has a long history of implementing and driving strategic quality systems that promote company-wide excellence as well as maintain these "best in class" systems.

During his career Anand has had much success working in quality and engineering and he will bring his experience in leading quality teams in to promote a high level of control and maintenance to the quality systems here at Chicago Powdered Metal Products.

Prior to working at Chicago Powdered Metal Products Company, Anand was the Quality Manager at ADC Diecasting & Manufacturing. Prior to ADC Diecasting & Manufacturing, Anand was Director of Engineering at RCM Industries/Allied Diecasting, Quality Manager at BorgWarner Transmissions Systems, and Engineering Manager at Linex Manufacturing/Division of Linamar Corporation.

Anand has implemented and maintained processes to meet standards for IATF16949, ISO14001, BIQS and CSR. He has Designed and implemented KPI for Senior Management reviews and led continuous improvements to support the improvements of the KPI results. He has been a trainer for engineers for Six Sigma and has mentored LSS projects. His focus is on standardization and a support of the customer for zero defects.

We are very excited to welcome Dhaval into our team here at Chicago Powdered Metals Company. We know that he will do an excellent job of leading the quality systems within Chicago Powdered Metal Products Company and will support us as we continue to strive for excellence in everything we do.

In business since 1948, Chicago Powder Metal Products (CPMP) Company is one of the largest independent powder metal parts manufacturers in the United States. CPMP possesses a full range of presses which offer efficient, high volume part production. Our equipment and our most recent automation additions enable us to produce larger, increasingly complex, multi-level components used in a wide variety of industry applications from automotive, to hardware and appliance.
